BIRD-WATCHING IN TALLINN

About the tour

Formerly closed to the public, the Paljassaare Peninsula, with its rich military history, has become a diverse nature reserve. It is the best birdwatching spot in Tallinn, and part of the Paljassaare Bird Sanctuary is included in the Natura 2000 network. Visitors can explore birdwatching towers and the sandy Pikakari beach. Paljassaare offers unmatched views of the Tallinn city skyline.

Features

- 2-3 hours guided tour
- binoculars / telescope use
- tea break with biscuits
- prices start at 45 EUR (+VAT) per participant. Minimum group of 10 or minimum price of 450 EUR (+VAT)
- can be combined with outdoors mobile game, tea break with pies

THE PRIMEVAL VALLEY OF PIRITA RIVER IN TALLINN

About the hike

The hike along the winding banks of the Pirita River offers enchanting views and stories of the local rich biodiversity. Here, you'll find centuries-old pine forests, traces of deer activity, sway on a suspension bridge, and admire views of the tallest tower in the Nordic countries - the Tallinn TV Tower. We'll traverse through a bog where peat was once mined, and in the summer, you can enjoy some blueberries along the way.

Features

- 2-3 hours guided tour
- tea break with biscuits
- prices start at 35 EUR (+VAT) per participant. Minimum group of 10 or minimum price of 350 EUR (+VAT)
- can be combined with outdoors mobile game, tea break with pies

VIIMSI PENINSULA - FOREST, SEA AND MILITARY HERITAGE

About the hike

The Viimsi Peninsula was once home to fishing villages. Here you can walk through old forests, along the coast of the Baltic Sea and stand beside a huge boulder. During the Soviet era, there was a border zone here, as evidenced by the moss-covered ruins in the forest. It's strange to think that there was once a nuclear warhead storage facility so close to Tallinn, which you can now explore.

Features

- 2,5-3 hours guided tour
- tea break with biscuits
- prices start at 35 EUR (+VAT) per participant. Minimum group of 10 or minimum price of 350 EUR (+VAT)
- can be combined with outdoors mobile game, tea break with pies

PÄÄSKÜLA BOG IN THE HEART OF THE CITY

About the hike

While significantly impacted by human activity, Pääsküla Bog provides a wonderful opportunity to explore the biodiversity of the bog within Tallinn. Formerly exploited for peat extraction, but now visitors can enjoy walking on boardwalks and visit an observation tower for a bird's-eye view of the bog.

Features

- 2-3 hours guided tour
- tea break with biscuits
- prices start at 35 EUR (+VAT) per participant. Minimum group of 10 or minimum price of 350 EUR (+VAT)
- can be combined with outdoors mobile game, tea break with pies

HIKING TRIP FOR TRASH CLEANUP WITH A BIOLOGIST

About the trip

We enjoy hiking in nature while also making a positive impact by cleaning up litter along the trail. Through this activity, we learn to observe and appreciate our surroundings more closely, while also raising awareness about waste issues. Together we contribute towards cleaner environment and protecting wildlife from harm.

Features

- 2-3 hours guided tour with biologist
- tea break with biscuits
- prices start at 45 EUR (+VAT) per participant. Minimum group of 10 or minimum price of 450 EUR (+VAT)
- can be combined with outdoors mobile game, tea break with pies

CRAFTING BIRDHOUSES AND INSECT HOTELS

About the activity

Crafting birdhouses and insect hotels contributes to supporting biodiversity in local community gardens and parks. In Estonia, birdhouses host nearly 30 species of birds, as well as other animals and insects. Additionally, birdhouses provide shelter and food storage options during winter months. Insect hotels offer habitats for important species that serve as pollinators for plants. These hotels aid in insect hibernation, reproduction and shelter, helping to maintain ecosystem balance.

Features

- 2-3 hours guided workshop
- tea break with biscuits
- prices depends on the group size and location
- can be combined with a hike, catering, outdoors mobile game

HIKES ON FOOT

Great for getting out of the routine and being physically active.
